HUERTA IS PUSHING REBEL FORCES BACK IN DEFEAT

POSSIBILITIES OF NECHES AS TRADE HIGHWAY IN CONNECTION WITH PROPOSED ROAD MIGHTY

Stream Never Afflicted by Floods and Has No
Shifting Sand Bars; Obstacles to be Cut
Through, Shortening Distance

NEEDS NO DREDGING, CURRENT TEARING OUT BOTTOM

By G. B. Cady.
Special to The Morning News.
Beaumont, May 12.—A river surprising in its possibilities is the Neches.
When considered in conjunction with the proposed Waco-Beaumont railway, are to the average Texan and one unacquainted with its volume of water, astounding. Beaumont too,
in the last few years, has made wonderful strides and is a factor worth considering.

From Beaumont to the mouth of the Sabine-Neches canal, the present
distance of which is 28 miles, the depth of the water ranges from 30
to 46 feet and contains a mighty volume of water. Never affected by floods to any appreciable extent, and with no shifting sand bars, it is already ready for big ship navigation.
But one point, a short distance from Beaumont, offers the most serious obstacle to navigation by big boats,
and this is to be cut through, as
will three other points on the canal,
which will reduce the distance to the canal mouth to 25 miles. On either side of this river are swamps that it is proposed to reclaim.

Arriving at the mouth of the Neches, the houseboat La Salle, on which the Waco visitors and the Central Texas delegation were carried,
was towed into the Sabine-Neches canal, which skirts the right of the beautiful Sabine lake, 18 miles wide and 20 long. It was not feasible to use the lake for navigation purposes
owing to its shallow depth and the many sandbars. Any channel that would be dredged would be a tremendously expensive proposition, and the upkeep would be something enormous owing to the constantly drifting
silt that would fill the channel.

Current Tears Out Bottom.
Not so with the Sabine-Neches canal, however, which originally was dredged to a ten-foot depth, but which is now deeper, the current tearing out the bottom. In passing through the canal, the La Salle skirted Sabine lake to Port Arthur. Off to the left one can see the Louisiana
shore across the rippling waves,
while to the right are the swamps,
which the reclamation bureau of the government is now surveying.
Traveling through the Sabine-Neches canal to Port Arthur, one sees on the right the beautiful home
and grounds occasionally occupied by the late John W. Gates, who is given credit for building the town, and
which he did, and which his estate
owns, or at least the greater part of
it. The Mary Gates hospital also looks into view, as does the expensive Plaza hotel and the wireless station.

At Port Arthur the members of the party were taken in automobiles
for a tour of the city and to the immense docks of the Gulf Refining company, where ships are loaded with oil for all parts of the world.

Cow Pasture 15 Years Ago.
Fifteen years ago Port Arthur was a cow pasture, but it is now a city
of 10,000 population and has a payroll of $300,000 monthly. Its possibilities were forecasted by A. E.
Stillwell, who being defeated in securing wharfs on the gulf, stopped
the building of the Kansas City Southern at Port Arthur and later lost control of the road. From the gulf he started the Sabine Pass,
which was improved by Gates until
it is now a channel accommodating boats requiring a 26-foot draft.

From Port Arthur the party boarded the Captain Sam and the government pilot boat Florida, on which the trip was made through the jetties into the gulf of Mexico. Fear of sickness was idle, as the water
was smooth.

There is an interesting bit of history connected with the Florida, it being the boat which two years ago
"roped" a sick whale around the tail,
dragged it off a sand bar and towed
it up through Sabine Pass to Port Arthur, where it was exhibited. The "captors" netted over $4000 at 50
cents per, but the government pilot
and two engineers, who made the "catch" were fined $1000 for using
the boat for "whaling" expeditions.
The fine was paid cheerfully. Captain Cot Plummer, the pilot, who is still in the service, was on the Florida Saturday.

From Port Arthur to the gulf,
through the jetties, it is a distance of 11 miles and a ten-knot speed was recorded. On the trip the party passed Sabine Pass, which was once a town. But "Broadway" looks rather deserted now. Sabine itself also has fallen into disrepair. It seems, judging from appearances, it being the home at present of a supply shipping company and a number of pilots.

One improvement at Port Arthur,
which will add much to the pleasure
in that city, is a pier, which runs 1000 feet out into Sabine lake. A concrete pier runs out and will join,

when completed, a block of ground 300 feet square, which it is planned to fill in with dirt. Various amusements will of course be located on the pier when it is finished.

Beaumont and Jefferson county,
after many years' efforts to secure a government appropriation to build the Sabine-Neches canal and straighten out the tortuous Neches river
from Beaumont to Sabine lake, finally voted a half-million dollar bond issue. This was followed by the government appropriating a similar amount, with the expectation that the $1,000,000 would be required for the work. A lower bid than the estimate, which was placed at 10
cents per cubic yard, was secured,
the contractor offering to do the work for a little over 7 cents. This leaves a residue, or will when the original plans are executed, of about $200,000, and this amount will be used in making the cutoffs in the river and in dredging out the ship-turning basin at Beaumont, almost a fifty-acre tract, and within four blocks of the business section of the city. This will make considerable improvement possible, and big ships
may come to Beaumont without the slightest danger.

The Sabine-Neches canal, when completed, and the dredges are engaged now, will be 125 feet wide and 50 feet of the width it will be 25 feet deep. It has clay banks, after a depth of two feet from the surface, and, with the current, it will scarcely permit any silt to settle.

One feature that strikes the visitor is the waste land all along either side of the river to its mouth, and along the right of the canal. In Jefferson county, of which Beaumont
is the county seat, has about 710,- 000 acres, and almost all is now swampy. H. A. Kipp, a government engineer, is now engaged in making a survey of the whole country with a view to reclaiming it. Jefferson county voted $7500 in bonds and the government duplicated it. By reclaiming the swampy land, more rice farms will be possible and many new line the river and canal. Mr.
Kipp will soon have the survey completed, notwithstanding the fact that most of it has to be done with a boat for a point of view.

That Waco and Central Texas, in fact, much of Southeast Texas, is interested in the Waco-Beaumont railroad, is evidenced by the passenger list of the La Salle, which including members of the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce, as hosts, and many

Men Are Conceited, Selfish And Impossible, She Says

Mrs. Jessamy Bret Harte-Steel, the talented daughter of Bret Harte, the noted American poet, the following are the reasons why there are so many old maids in Boston. The men are impossible. They are old maids. They are lacking in chivalry. They are conceited. They are spoiled. They are lacking in ambition.

Panama, May 12.—The dry season
on the isthmus ended today with a great rainstorm. The dry period has greatly facilitated the work of digging the canal, and it is announced that 1000 white employees will be dropped from the payroll before the end of May. Within the next three months Gatun lake will rise 33 feet.

Dreamed Spouse Would Kill Her, Dream Comes True

By The Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., May 12.—A nightmare experienced by Mrs. Robert L.
Clay of this city last Thursday came true tonight, when her husband fired
three bullets into her body with a revolver, from the effects of which she died a few minutes later.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay have been separated for several months. Mrs. Clay dreamed Thursday that Clay called and failing to bring about a reconciliation opened fire upon her with a revolver.

Tonight Clay called at the home
about 9 o'clock and after making overtures which his wife rejected he shot her three times, and she died shortly afterward. Clay is under arrest.

INSURRECTOS RETREATING AFTER BATTLE LASTING A WHOLE DAY NEAR CONEJOS

Government Wins Decisive Victory, Taking
City; Nearly 500 Dead and Wounded Litter Battle Field.

INSURGENTS AT BAY AWAIT ANNIHILATION, HUERTA SAYS

By The Associated Press.

At the Federal Front, Conejos, Mex., May 12.—Twelve hours of brisk fighting on the desert plains 300 miles south of the American border between a force of 500 rebels under General Orozco and an equally strong body of federals under General Huerta resulted today in a decided advantage to the government.

The fighting began at daybreak and at nightfall the sandy mesas between here and Yermo, 14 miles north, where the insurgents were gradually forced back, were covered with dead and wounded.

Nearly 500 are believed to have been killed and wounded on both sides. A courier reported that General Trucey Aubert, the dashing federal commander, had been shot in the leg.

The rebels abandoned ten cannon and much ammunition in their retreat.

Sent to Flank Rebels.

Gen. Joaquin Tellez, who was stationed in the rear of Huerta's vanguard, at noon was sent around to the eastward to flank the rebels and cut off their retreat. Tonight federal headquarters claim the rebels are completely surrounded and that the second day of fighting will prove equally decisive.

This town, only yesterday occupied by the vanguard of the rebels,
was riddled with bullets when the federals rallied into it at sunset.
Over the foothills to the north the insurrectos could be seen retreating.

General Huerta has been receiving many telegrams of congratulation on the outcome of today's fighting.
Should the advantage gained today
be followed by equal success tomorrow the federal leaders are confident it will mean the annihilation
of the insurgent army.

Escalator Last Stand.

General Huerta considers it probable, however, that the rebels will make their last stand at Escalator,
their central base, 14 miles to the north, where they have built fortifications and trenches during the last fortnight.

It was the steady artillery fire of the government troops that dislodged
the enemy. The aim of the federal gunners was true. They began to shell the rebel positions at daybreak.
For a time the insurgents fired in volleys and several federal officers were wounded. Only a few hours,
however, they withstood the cannonading and soon began to evacuate
their positions. General Tellez arrived at nightfall with 1500 men in the valley behind Conejos, where the vanguard of the rebels gathered. It seems likely that unless the rebels continue to fight desperately many prisoners will be taken tomorrow.

Destroy Bridges.

As they retreated the liberals destroyed several bridges, but the federals are equipped with pontoons and will not be seriously affected.

Enthusiasm in the federal army is intense. Word reached here that Torreon is celebrating the victory
with parades and music.

General Huerta's telegram to President Madero was as follows:

"9:15 a. m. O'clock.—We are now establishing our men in the best available positions, and General Tel-
lez will go into battle at once, covered by the artillery under Lieutenant Colonel Rubio Navarrete. I am informed by several commanders that they are having difficulty in restrain-ing the men, who are anxious to get into the fight. Although I believe that today's engagement is only one of several which will have to be fought, I can assure you that it has resulted in a victory for our forces.

"Orozco is said to be in command of the rebel forces, but I have been unable to confirm the report. The cavalry is in pursuit of bands of rebels which are fleeing. I have just received news that our forces are
in possession of the enemy's positions. The battle will probably end
at 7 p. m., as the rebels, who fight
best on Sunday, consider that day
as ended at that hour. I am confident that the federal arms will have covered themselves with glory.

Outposts Captured.

"After seven and a half hours of fighting, we have captured the rebel outposts and put to flight over 5000 rebels, who opposed us. We have captured ten cannons from them and there are over 400 dead on the field.
Our wounded are being brought in.
General Trucey Aubert is wounded
in one foot, but not seriously. The commander of the cavalry also is wounded.

"I have ordered the advance, which I ordered stopped five minutes ago,
to proceed, and I am going into battle again.

"VICTORIANO HUERTA."

Gen. Huerta's account of the fight:
"After 12 hours of fighting today," he said, "my troops took the positions of the rebels by storm.
The artillery fire was sup. My forces, filled with enthusiasm, have once more shown the power of the government and they covered themselves with glory.

"We captured from the enemy ten

cannon and wagons with many hand
bombs of dynamite. The enemy retreated toward the north, where a part of my men executed valiantly a movement which nearly annihilated them. The bridge burned by those who escaped and a train of twenty cars were burned. The cars and bridges are still on fire.

"Three trains of re-inforcements
arrived for rebels during the fight,
but the heavy artillery fire from our batteries prevented them from de-
training.

More Than 500 Dead.
"Up to 10 p. m. I have not had time to go over the battle ground.
I have information, however, that the dead will number more than 500.

"On our part, we had an almost noticeable loss, except that unfortunately Gen. Trucey Aubert is slightly injured in one foot. By means of the artillery the infantry fire of the rebels was held beyond range."

20 Cannon In Charge.
More than 20 federal cannons
were in action at once. The enemy was entrenched in the hills in a line 15 miles long. The federal line was directed so well that every shell hit a vulnerable spot. At the first few shots the commander of the federal artillery, Lieut. Col. Navarrete, located immediately the position of the enemy. Soon he sighted and wrecked their artillery, all of which fell into the hands of the government troops.

Most of the shells of the enemy
exploded about six hundred feet in front of the federal lines which accounts for the small losses of the government troops.

Orozco to Make
His Stand at Rallano

HE TRANSFERS HEADQUARTERS
FROM ESCALON IN ORDER TO GET BETTER POSITION.

By The Associated Press.
At Gen. Orozco's Headquarters,
Rallano, Mex., May 12.—Gen. Orozco today transferred his headquarters from Escalon, Mexico, where he has been for the last fortnight, to Rallano, 17 miles north. In order,
he said, to place his men in better positions for a final stand. The rebels fought briskly all day. Losses
have not yet been announced here.

It was at Rallano recently that the federal were severely defeated and Gen. Gonzalez Salazar committed suicide. The vicinity of Rallano may again be a battle ground. Gen.
Orozco tonight admitted that his army had been defeated at Conejos
and has sent a general order to all insurrecto troops to mobilize at Rellano. He blames his defeat to the superior artillery fire of the federals.

Generals Campa and Artugumedo
were sent around to the east to flank
the federals who have been reported missing. The rebels abandoned their four positions at 3 o'clock.

REBELS CONCEDE DEFEAT.

By The Associated Press.
Juarez, Mex., May 12.—Rebel leaders here concede to Gen. Orozco's evacuation of Conejos today.
Details of the fighting have not reached here. It is admitted that many are killed and wounded.

GOVERNMENT PREDICTION.
Washington, May 12.—Forecast:
Oklahoma—Fair Monday;
rain at night or Tuesday.
East Texas—Fair Monday;
showers at night or Tuesday.
West Texas—Fair Monday;
except showers in the Panhan-
dles; Tuesday probably fair;
warmer in extreme north por-

CRANKS, HOTEL VARIETY.

"Nothing with a seven in it," was a remark made to a clerk at the Raleigh by a stylishly gowned woman yesterday afternoon, who had registered and been assigned room 723. The clerk, of course, changed the lady to another room.

"Bet she's an actress," remarked the clerk to William Gunnell, an old-time hotel man of Virginia, who was at the desk.

"That's a good bet," replied Mr. Gunnell. "In my experience in the hotel business I have run up against many peculiar superstitions. In this case, the woman undoubtedly is superstitious about the number seven. Why, I am sure I do not know, for I never heard anything unlucky connected with seven. I used to have more trouble with persons who objected to occupying a room with the number thirteen on it, and we found so many persons who would not take such rooms that we finally had to cut out the number altogether. In most of the larger hotels now you will find that there are no thirteens.

"Perhaps the most annoying thing to the clerk of a hotel is the man who wants a room up high or low down. Generally it is a person with generous avoirdupois who desires to be given a top room, where the windows can be thrown open and the air allowed to circulate. The lower floors are the ones wanted by timid persons or persons who have some time or another been in an accident or fire. They don't seem ever to get over their fear.

"Rooms with baths are much more in demand than a few years ago. I don't know whether it is because the people who patronize hotels are more prosperous or because the populace is getting cleaner. In Europe, you know, there are few hotels that are provided with private baths. Over there the people don't seem to care so much for bathing as the Americans do."—Washington Post.

MEMBERSHIP IN NEW COMMERCE BODY SOUGHT

MANY APPLICATIONS FROM ORGANIZATIONS COME TO NEW FEDERAL BUREAU.

Steps Being Taken to Make Department Success; Founded by President Taft.

Special to The Morning News.

Washington, May 12.—Applications from the principal commercial and trade organizations of the country for membership in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America are being received daily at the Evans building headquarters here, in charge of John Joy Edson. The 700 representatives of the various organizations, invited here by President Taft, through Secretary Nagel and the bureau of manufacturers, department of commerce and labor, are fulfilling their pledge, taken at the convention recently, to make the new national chamber a success, and to recommend to their organization the adoption of the tentative plan, decided upon at the meeting, enabling them to become members.

Already the necessary steps have been taken by the larger bodies in the greater American cities. In order to participate the N. Y. Chamber of Commerce purposes amending its charter, which prohibits it from becoming affiliated with other organizations.

Chief A. H. Baldwin, of the bureau of manufacturers, has received an official copy of the resolution passed at the convention, commending his bureau for the splendid work it accomplished in carrying out the president's desire, in carrying out the instructions of Secretary Nagel, and in arousing the enthusiastic interest of the American commercial organizations in the formation of the great national advisory body acting in connection with the government in questions of national importance along commercial lines. The resolution especially commends the bureau's arrangements for the reception, comfort and entertainment of the delegates.

Greatest Gathering of Kind.

In an interview today Mr. Baldwin said:

"The Bureau of Manufacturers is entirely satisfied with the results achieved by the conference. It was undoubtedly the most broadly representative gathering of delegates from promissive commercial organizations of every kind that was ever brought together in this country. Every part of the United States, including its overseas possessions, and every important commercial interest was represented, and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America thus starts with a tremendous prestige given by the participation of men of importance in the commercial world from every geographical and trade sub-division of the nation. Four hundred organizations appointed representatives and nearly seven hundred business men were present at the meetings.

"A spirit of unselfish enthusiasm and earnest desire for some action to promote the national welfare permeated and dominated the conference, and this spirit expressed itself in the promptness and unanimity with which the recommendations of the committee on plan of organization and the committee on nominations were accepted.

"The tentative by-laws which were adopted followed closely the principles outlined in preliminary suggestions which had already received the approval of the Bureau of Manufacturers as essentially sound in theory. They apparently assure the broadly representative character of the new chamber, and they provide for limiting its service to national matters and to constructive plans on which a substantial majority of the constituent members can reach an agreement.

"Mr. Harry A. Wheeler presided over the conference with consummate skill and the leadership of Mr. John H. Fahy, of Boston, during the deliberations on the plan of organization was admirable and showed his close study of the problems involved in the establishment of a national chamber."

The chief of the bureau of manufacturers added that while the new National Chamber of Commerce is now safely launched, with every prospect of success, and is independent of the government, the bureau will aid its service in every legitimate way. His office has records of the facts in regard to commercial organizations in the United States which will be of the greatest value to the National Chamber, which must now establish its relations with local associations as widely and as completely as possible. It is confidently expected that a large proportion of the active commercial organizations will promptly join the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America.

The outline plan of organization, adopted by the conference, which will be the basis for the constitution and by-laws, and will be embodied in the charter of incorporation which congress will be asked to grant, is as follows:

"Article I. Name. The name of this association shall be Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America."

"Article II. Object. The object of this association shall be to provide a national clearing house for the development and consideration of business opinion, and to secure united action upon questions affecting the commercial interests of the United States. Only questions of national importance shall be considered."

"Article III. Membership. Every commercial or manufacturers' association, not organized for private purposes, shall be eligible for constituent membership in the chamber. Such associations shall be of two classes: (1) Local or state commerce, whose activities are confined to a single state, city or locality, and

(2) State, interstate, or national, commercial or manufacturers' organizations whose membership is confined to one trade or class of trades."

"Article IV. Representation. Associations having twenty-five (25) members, shall be entitled to one delegate and one vote, and for each additional member of five (5), one additional delegate and one vote; but no association shall be entitled to more than ten (10) delegates and ten (10) votes."

"Article V. Dues. Each association shall pay annually, in advance, dues of twenty-five dollars (25) for each delegate to which it is entitled. Members from cities of less than fifty thousand (50,000) population may be admitted by vote of the board of directors upon the payment of such dues as the board of directors shall fix."

"Article VI. Officers. There shall be an advisory council made up of one representative selected by each constituent member. There shall be elected by this conference a board of directors of twenty-five (25) to serve until the next meeting, which board shall elect a president, three vice-presidents and a treasurer."

"Article VII. Duties of the Board of Directors. Section 1. It shall meet and organize immediately upon adjournment of this conference."

"Section 2. It shall elect a secretary and prescribe his duties."

"Section 3. It shall provide permanent headquarters in the city of Washington, and the necessary clerical force for the transaction of the business of the association."

"Section 4. It shall designate the place of meeting of each annual convention at least ninety (90) days in advance thereof and make the necessary arrangements therefor."

"Section 5. It may by three-fourths vote of the total membership of the board of directors, call special conventions of the association, giving to all members notice in writing at least sixty (60) days in advance thereof."

"Section 6. It shall prepare a program of subjects to be discussed at each annual or special convention, copies of which program shall be mailed to each delegate at least sixty (60) days in advance of such convention. Each member may, from time to time, submit to the board of directors such questions for discussion as it may deem desirable. Suggestions, when approved by the board of directors, shall be placed upon the program in the order in which they are received. The board of directors may include in the program such questions of national importance as it may deem desirable for consideration and action."

"Section 7. During the interim between conventions the board of directors shall submit to the members of the chamber such questions of national importance as it may deem wise for consideration and action. Upon receipt of the same it shall be the duty of the members to furnish, within sixty (60) days, an expression of opinion upon the same. Any member may also during such interim, submit to the board of directors such subjects as it desires to have discussed by other members, which questions, if deemed to be of national importance, shall in turn be referred to the various members for discussion and report."

"Section 8. It shall also publish from time to time reports indicating the results of the discussions of the various questions which shall have been submitted to the members, and distribute such reports among the members at such intervals as it shall deem wise and necessary. It shall also transmit these reports to such public officers or bodies as the convention may order or the board of directors may deem proper."

"Section 9. It shall be the judge of the qualifications of all applicants for membership, and no applicant shall be admitted to membership except by vote of the said board of directors, nor shall any applicant be eligible to membership until it has presented to the board of directors a written statement setting forth: (1) Its purposes; (2) Its total membership; (3) the date of its organization, and such other information as the board of directors may require."

"Section 10. It shall prepare such rules as may be necessary for the orderly conduct and procedure of the national and special conventions, which rules shall not conflict with the provisions of these articles of association."

"Section 11. The rules herein set forth and such other standing or special rules as the board of directors may adopt affecting convention procedure may at any time be suspended by a three-fourths vote of all the delegates present at any convention."

Girl Wore It, Stepmother Objected, Mother Sided With Daughter; Suit Followed.

Special to The Morning News.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 12.—A Bryan button worn by Miss Nellie Green disrupted the home of her stepmother, Simon Keller, according to the girl's testimony today while testifying in a suit for divorce brought by her mother. Miss Green testified that her stepfather opposed her wearing a Bryan button during the campaign of 1908, and that she was compelled to leave home.

The girl's mother took her side in the controversy and subsequently sued for divorce. The decree has not been entered.

PORTUGAL SPEAKER RESIGNS.

By The Associated Press.

Lisbon, May 11.—Speaker of the Portuguese chamber, Azevedo, resigned today without assigning any reasons for his action. Both the senate and the chamber of deputies have received telegraphic requests from the inhabitants of Oporto for immediate parliamentary action on the question of municipal prerogatives. The business men of Oporto held a meeting in the public square of that city and demanded that the government demand similar action from that enjoyed by Lisbon. All the shops and offices of the city were closed.

MISSISSIPPI DEMOCRATS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

CONVENTION PROGRAM LIMITED TO DECLARING PRIMARY RESULT; UNDERWOOD CHOICE.

Jackson, Miss., May 12.—With a program limited to declaring the result of the presidential preference primary held here May 8 and the election of a new executive committee the democratic state convention will meet in Jackson next Wednesday. Though it is conceded that the state went for Underwood by a large majority nothing approaching a tabulation of the full vote has been made. Chairmen of the executive committees in the 78 counties will bring the official returns to the state convention. Mississippi has 20 votes in the national convention and these will be cast as a unit. The delegates were all selected and instructed by the preferential primary.

A. H. Longino, secretary of the state executive committee, has given out the following as the complete list of delegates chosen to the Baltimore convention:

At large—U. S. Senator John Sharp Williams; Senator-elect Jas. K. Vardaman; Gov. Karl Brewer, C. H. Alexander.

First District—C. T. Heard, T. A. Hogan.

Second District—A. C. Anderson, Hall S. Anderson.

SKIPPER SUBDUED
MILLIONAIRE "HOMO"

One of Rich Trio of "Tramp" Round World Comes to Grief At Sea.

Special to The Morning News.

San Francisco, May 12.—Three millionaire tramps who left here several weeks ago on a trip around the world came to grief between this port and Honolulu, according to advices received here.

The "Millionaire Tramps" are George D. Little, A. R. Dupont and Sidney R. Francis, the last named being a son of the former governor of Missouri. They are all college graduates.

After traveling to this city from Los Angeles in box cars, the trio signed as able seamen on the four-masted schooner, Edward Sewall, bound for Philadelphia via Cape Horn, with a cargo of sugar.

On the second day out the skipper piped all hands on deck to handle some canvas. The collegians responded, but Little engaged in an argument with Captain Quick, whereupon the skipper is said to have used regular sea tactics in subduing the mutineers.

Little, who is a lawyer, secured his discharge at Honolulu and is said to have brought suit against the captain for $30,000.

DRAWS GAS FROM BOILERS.

A writer, treating the problem of economy in various types of draft equipment on the Engineering Magazine, says that the necessary draft intensity required to operate a boiler plant is sometimes supplied by mechanical devices designed to draw the gases of combustion through the furnace and boiler setting. The installation usually consists of a centrifugal fan or fans with the fan connected to the boiler side of the breeching and the discharge end of the stack. With such an equipment the fan creates sufficient draft intensity to overcome the losses in the furnace, boiler and breeching. The fan discharges into a stack, the height not being based upon any consideration of draft, but being made sufficient to discharge the gases into the atmosphere at such a height as not to be objectionable.

The fan is usually driven, either directly or by means of a belt, by a steam engine or an electric motor. Owing to the fact that the temperature of the gases handled by the fan is 450 degrees Fahrenheit or more, the steam engine seems to be the preferable type of unit to adopt, especially for direct-connected units. The speed variation required for a mechanical draft equipment is more easily and reliably made with a steam engine than with an electric motor.

The type of engine used is usually the horizontal or vertical single-cylinder, throttling, reciprocating engine, and the speed of the fan is automatically controlled so as to maintain a virtually constant steam pressure in the boilers at all rates of driving within the capacity of the equipment. Of course, the same automatic control of the steam pressure may be maintained with a stack and a suitable automatic damper regulator.

Another field in which the induced draft equipment is available is in old plants where an increase in the load or a different kind of fuel requires more draft intensity than is available with the stack to obtain the necessary draft, in which case an induced draft equipment affords a satisfactory solution.

FAIR AND COOLER

THIS WEEK PREDICTED
By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 12.—Indications are that during the coming week, fair weather will prevail, with temperatures below the seasonal average generally east of the Mississippi valley. Monday and Tuesday and frosts are likely to occur the first part of the week in the Rocky mountains, the northern plains states, the upper Mississippi valley and the upper lake region and Tuesday and Wednesday in the lower lake region, the upper Ohio valley and the interior of the north Atlantic states.

A change to considerably cooler weather, the bulletin says, will over-spread the region east of the Mississippi valley Monday and Tuesday and frosts are likely to occur the first part of the week in the Rocky mountains, the northern plains states, the upper Mississippi valley and the upper lake region and Tuesday and Wednesday in the lower lake region, the upper Ohio valley and the interior of the north Atlantic states.

The next disturbance to cross the country will appear in the far west Wednesday or Thursday and move to the middle west near the close of the week; it will be preceded by a general rise in temperature, and be attended by local showers and thunderstorms.

Chicago, May 12.—Postoffice authorities here are annoyed by the circulation of numerous anonymous postal cards urging the recital and spread of religious prayer. General James E. The postals, it is believed by the officials, are being circulated by a band of religious fanatics. They ask that the recipient recite the prayer for nine days and then send nine postals with the same words to other persons.

BAPTISTS COME TO OKLAHOMA CITY

ADVANCE GUARD OF CHURCH HOSTS ARRIVING FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Reports of Committees to Be Encouraging to Members of the Denomination.

By The Associated Press.

Oklahoma City, May 12.—The advance guard of the Southern Baptist convention, which will hold its annual session in this city this week beginning Wednesday and lasting five days, has arrived here and by Wednesday morning between 3000 and 4000 delegates probably will have reached the city. In addition to the Southern Baptists' convention the Women's Missionary Union, one of its auxiliary organizations, also will be in session here at the same time.

President E. C. Darden, D. D., of Macon, Ga., will preside at the first session.

Reports to Cheer.

The annual convention sermon will be delivered Wednesday night by the Rev. Z. T. Cody, editor of the Baptist Courier of Greenville, S. C. Reports of the various boards of the church are expected to be delivered during Thursday. It is understood these will show encouraging conditions in all departments of the church work. The two mission boards and the Sunday school board, it is stated, raised and expended during the fiscal year, ending April 30, $1,120,000, a suitable increase over the amount raised during the preceding year. The report of the Women's Missionary Union will show, it is understood, that $225,000 has been raised by that organization for missionary work both in America and foreign lands.

For Denominationalism.

Considerable interest will center in the report of the Sunday school board in which it is said the denominational societies will be emphasized in contrast with the undenominational societies in recent years. The board will report, it is said, the joint effect in Sunday school has reached the limit and religious efficiency can not come through interdenominational Sunday school endeavor.

Another matter expected to excite interest is the report of the committee appointed last year made up of an equal number of representatives of the Northern and Southern Baptists on the matter of settling the questions of committee between the two bodies. These questions are said to have largely grown out of a majority of the Baptists in New Mexico, uniting with the Southern Baptists and it is understood their settlement will provide for the coming of the entire New Mexico Baptist contingent into the southern convention.

BAPTIST REVIVAL TO BE OPENED TONIGHT

EVANGELIST HAM TO OPEN CAMPAIGN AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Evangelist Ham, whose coming has been fully announced, will open the evangelistic campaign at 8 o'clock tonight. The committee fully expects all the Baptist churches to be present to lead the singing. N. P. Lowrey and his trained orchestra will furnish instrumental music. One of the features of the meetings will be the junior choir. Those in charge urge that parents send their children to the First Baptist church direct from school this afternoon to meet Evangelist Ham, who will organize and rehearse the juniors.

These meetings will be conducted in the First Baptist meeting house Monday and Tuesday nights or till the delayed part of the tabernacle is received and everything is in readiness for the meetings on Clay and 9th streets. Large crowds are expected from the beginning. Everybody welcome at every service.

WORK ON NO 8 DAM SHOWS PROGRESS

Great activity is seen at the site of the lock and dam No. 8 on the Brazos, a few miles below Waco. A carload of heavy machinery was unloaded at the site a few days ago. This shipment makes the first consignment of material to be shipped over the new tracks of the spur from Downsville to the dam.

Captain Schuster, in charge of the construction work, is preparing to build the foundations of the dam proper. A mammoth barge has already been completed and will be used in the building of the foundation. A fleet of boats of almost every conceivable description have also been constructed for the work, and will be sent up from Hidalgo Falls on the next first high water. Cofferdams will be used in the river.

MEAT INSPECTION AND COMMERCE COURT JUDGE CHARGES PROBES BEFORE CONGRESS.

Senate Committee Will Favorably Report Bill for Six-Year Presidential Term.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 12.—A variety of important measures crowd the congress program this week. The discussion of the revision of the tariff law promises to occupy most of the senate's time, with a possibility of the democrats and progressive republicans getting together and forcing adoption of the Cumming compromise bill early next week.

The house investigating committee resume activity tomorrow. These include the judiciary committee's inquiry into the charges against Judge Archibald of the commerce court and the agricultural committee's consideration of attacks on federal meat inspection methods.

The proposed act to give effect to the treaty between the United States, Great Britain, Japan and Russia for protection of fur seals and sea otter in the North Pacific ocean will be brought up in the senate tomorrow by Senator Lodge with a view to immediate action. The house already has passed the bill to make it operative, the senate foreign relations committee agreeing to it in modified form.

The senate judiciary committee will favorably report on the proposal to limit the tenure of office of the president.

The sub-committee studying the question expects to submit its conclusions on the matter of six years for the president. It would not affect the present presidential campaign for it would mean the submission of an amendment of the constitution to the state legislatures.

Works Resolution Up. Under the Works resolution pending before the committee, the president and vice-president will hold office for six years with ineligibility to a second term. The committee is also considering the advancing for the inauguration to a date soon after election.

Senator Clapp of Minnesota, who heads the elections sub-committee to investigate the contributions to the presidential campaigns of 1904 and 1908 will not call the committee together until about May 20. He is scheduled to speak in the Ohio campaign in the interest of Col. Roosevelt this week.

The agricultural appropriation bill and the bill to limit the hours of labor on government contract work to eight hours probably will come up in the senate this week.

SUNSHINE CLEARING FLOOD SITUATION

LEVEES IN LITTLE DANGER NOW EXCEPT NEAR BATON ROUGE.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, May 12.—Another day of sunshine in New Orleans and throughout southern Louisiana cheered more and more the hearts of those who are concerned over the high flood stages of the Mississippi river. State and federal engineers announced that the few reports received today from points north of New Orleans, where gangs are repairing and strengthening the levees were encouraging, although it was admitted that the situation at Baton Rouge was still somewhat serious and would demand careful watching and continued hard work to prevent a break in the front levee.

Fall Recorded.

A fall of two-tenths of a foot in the Mississippi river at New Orleans was recorded in the 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock tonight, the gauge registering 21.3. At Baton Rouge there was a rise of nearly a tenth of a foot.

A report from Torras stated that the levee at the lower end of the crevasse there was sloughing off and gradually adding to the width of the gap in the river embankment. Tomorrow the United States steamship Ram will reach Torras and Assistant Engineer Waddill will begin the work of tying the ends of the crevasse to prevent the rushing waters carrying away more of the levee.

Levees Repaired.

The levees in New Orleans have been repaired where damage was done by Friday night's severe storm. In the third district the work of filling in dirt between the levees and wooden revetment is nearing completion and the work of closing the upper protection levee above New Orleans has been completed except for the three gaps left for the operation of trains. These gaps have been boxed in on each side, leaving only enough space for the passage of cars. Material has been placed at each gap and they can easily be closed within a few hours.

"UNCLE JOE," 76.

Special to The Morning News.

Washington, May 12.—"What? Do you mean to tell me this is May 7? Why, I'm 76 years old. Yes, that's all too true. I cannot deny it. But how time flies.

This was the statement of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, representative from Illinois, to a correspondent who called on him and requested an expression as to how it felt to be 76 years old—"the spirit of '76."

"My enemies say I am in my second childhood. Yes, I am, and I am proud of the fact. That is why I have purchased a ticket for the circus. I have always loved the circus. I love it now. I love to see the bareback riders, the snake charmer, the strong man, the acrobats and, above everything else, I love to see the young man with his sweetheart. I love to see the little children—God bless them—revel in the scenes about them. It all takes me back to my own boyhood on the banks of the Wabash."

HUNDRED CONVERTS MADE AT BAYLOR REVIVAL.

About 100 conversions and many reclamations marked the revival meeting of the past ten days that closed at Baylor University last night. Dr. Lee R. Scarborough, an alumnus of the university, now holding the chair of evangelism at the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, conducted the meetings.

BITTER FIGHT FOR OHIO ON THIS WEEK

ROOSEVELT, TAFT, LA FOLLETTE AND HARMON TO CAMPAIGN STATE.

Politicians of Less Prominence to Cover Places "Big Guns" Can Not Get to.

By The Associated Press.
Columbus, O., May 12.—From tomorrow morning until the dawn of the primary election, May 21, there is scarcely a crossroads station in speech-making tour at Wooster Wednesday that it does not expect to entertain at least a presidential possibility. Four seekers after the nonnegates at large to the national convent, Taft, Harmon and LaFollette, will tour the state while lesser lights, United States senators, cabinet members and department heads are figuring on campaigning and speaking at points where limited train facilities and the inability of candidates to be in more than one place at one time will prevent their appearance.

To Follow Taft Trail.
President Taft will begin his campaign at Marietta tomorrow morning and make more than a dozen speeches during the day. Col. Roosevelt will begin his speech-making Tuesday morning at Bellair, and go over practically the same route the president will have taken the preceding day. Altogether, Roosevelt will make more than sixty speeches during the time he is here.

Gov. Harmon will begin his speech-making tour at Wooster Wednesday night. He will cover many of the points lately visited by Col. Bryan on his anti-Harmon trip and has announced that he will speak on the charges made by the Nebraska friends of the governor sought unduly to influence Bryan-plugged delegates in 1908.

LaFollette in North.
Senator LaFollette will speak only in the northern counties and according to present plans will make only a short visit.

A victory in the preference primary is sought particularly by the democratic candidates as it will carry the right to name the six delegates at large to the national convention, according to the call of the state committee.
Republican voters will vote only for the candidates for delegates to the state convention. The delegates at large will be named by the state convention.

LEAVES FOR OHIO.

By The Associated Press.
Washington, May 12.—President Taft left Washington for Marietta, Ohio, where tomorrow he will begin a final campaign of speech-making in his home state before the presidential primaries there May 21.
Final conferences with Taft leaders in Washington today developed that the president will probably attack Col. Roosevelt along new lines on his Ohio trip. It was said that Roosevelt's position in the United States Steel corporation's absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company would be one of the criticisms by Mr. Taft.

Close friends of the president do not conceal their deep interest in the Ohio trip. On the result of primaries there may depend the future course of Mr. Taft in his fight for renomination.

MRS. T. H. STEWART OF MCGREGOR TELLS INTERESTING STORY.

READ IT—IT'S FOOD FOR THE EYE.

Ms. T. H. Stewart of McGregor, Texas, who made a trip back to her old Louisiana home about two years ago, says "that this was the first time she ever traveled on a train without having severe headache."
"For over twelve years I suffered with pains in the back of head and the cords and muscles in my neck would become so swollen at times that I could not read or sew without pain. I was so very dizzy and nervous that I could not get a particle of rest when sleeping, though I was tired and worn out day after day. Physicians were unable to locate the seat of my condition and had I not read Dr. Georgia's ad in the Waco Tribune, where he had relieved others of similar trouble with glasses, I do not know what would have become of me. And though my husband laughed at the idea of glasses giving me any relief, I decided that the first time in Waco I would consult Dr. Georgia and see if he thought my eyes were in any way the cause of my suffering."
"Dr. Georgia made my glasses for me over two years ago while on my way to Louisiana and this was actually the first time that I ever rode on a train without being deathly sick with severe headache. The swollen cords in my neck and the pains in temple and back of the head are a thing of the past. I now read or sew without the slightest inconvenience and sleep brings rest."
"Mr. Stewart, who was skeptical in the belief that glasses would relieve my trouble, is now one of Dr. W. B. Georgia's staunchest admirers, and he never gets through telling my friends what a blessing my glasses have been to me."

Note—Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will gladly answer any inquiries as to the genuine truth of the above statement.
If you suffer as this good woman did, why not throw away your prejudice and skeptical ideas and go to Dr. W. B. Georgia and get relief.

HUERTA REPORTS VICTORY FOR GOVERNMENT

GENERAL WIRES MADERO THAT FEDERAL FORCES HAVE WON FIRST BIG BATTLE

Aubert's Column Demoralized, However General Himself Is Wounded.

Mexico City, May 12.—In spite of the fact that Gen. Trucey Aubert's column was demoralized and the general himself wounded in today's fighting south of Conojos, the federal commander General Huerta, reported to President Madero tonight that the result of the first battle of Ocozaco was the main body of Orozco's army was a complete victory for the government forces.

Orozco In Command.
Orozco was in personal command of his troops according to information gained from prisoners taken in the engagement. The battle began soon after 9 o'clock this morning, General Huerta leaving the central column, with his retreat covered by the artillery under Lieut. Col. Rubio Navarrete. At 6:30 tonight General Huerta communicated by telegraph to President Madero that his forces had captured ten cannon from the rebels and reported casualties numbering four hundred.

Many Federals Wounded.
He failed to indicate what proportion of these were rebels. At that hour many federal wounded were being brought into camp. Among them was the commander of federal cavalry. A short time before an order had been given for a general advance, but this was almost immediately countermanded upon receipt by Gen. Huerta of news that the brigade of Gen. Trucey Aubert, which was guarding the retreat of the federal position had been cut to pieces by the rebel cavalry.

Battle Raging.
The battle was still raging at the time General Huerta's telegram was received. He said that the conduct of his men was heroic and that there was the best possible co-operation between the various divisions of his army. A later report from the telegraph operator in the field reported a cavalry attack by the rebels which had forced the federalists from their positions. General Trucey Aubert was said to have been wounded in the foot, not seriously.

WHIPS GIRL SHE SAW KISSING HER HUSBAND

"Blonde When I Went In, Brunette Before I Got Through," the Wife Says.

Special to The Morning News.
Kansas City, May 12.—"She was a blonde when I entered the office, but before I was through with her she was a brunette," said Mrs. Geo. C. Burrows, the pretty young wife of a dentist, yesterday after she had lashed her husband's office girl, once across her bare neck and twenty-five times across the face.

"I had intended waiting until the office was full of patients, but when I entered today and saw her kissing the doctor I thought it was time for my cue. First, I cut her over her bare neck. The doctor stood aside, with a look of bewilderment, and I let my whip get that office girl, put it in quotations 'office girl,' in the face. Off came the blonde hair. She got twenty-five lashes. "Then my husband took the whip away from me, but not before I was through, good and plenty. The girl, I understand, left for her mother's home near Rich Hill.

"I will not sue for a divorce; I don't want one, and, of course, I won't live with the doctor again. I'll whip that girl—say, she is taller and heavier than I am, and a blonde—every time I see her."

Mrs. Burrows was a subterfuge in the "Sweetest Girl From Paris" company last season at the La Salle theater, Chicago. She has been separated from Dr. Burrows several weeks, and now is living with her mother at 2027 Troost avenue.

She declared her whipping came only after a long watching and the employment of a detective.

"The doctor told me after it was through that he was glad of it," Mrs. Burrows said.

The office where the whipping occurred is at 900 Main street. Dr. Burrows could not be found last night, having moved from a recent address on Cherry street. His wife does not know his address.

TOWN BUILT THREE TIMES.

Twice a Failure, Kansas Village Is Again Rejuvenated.

For the third time in its history the town of Nettleton, between this place and Kinsley, on the main line of the Santa Fe, is to be rejuvenated.
About 25 years ago a store, hotel and about a dozen dwellings were built there, but all were moved away when the boom collapsed in the later eighties. About 10 years ago a man named Abrahamson built and conducted a store there in an effort to get the town started, but the project shared a like fate. Now comes Frank Kettleson of Kingsley and Speerville, who is building a two-story building at the place and will conduct the store and the elevator there in an effort to get the town off on the right foot. He is going to try to make the town something besides a name on the Santa Fe folders.

CROWD SEES LEAP TO DEATH.

Special to The Morning News.
Spokane, Wash., May 12.—A search was begun today for the body of Paul Worst, 26, owner of a drug store, who committed suicide last night in a most spectacular manner. Waiting until a street car full of passengers was on the Post street bridge over the Spokane river, Worst stepped to the bridge rail, doffed coat and hat, climbed on the rail and leaped into the stream, 60 feet below.

The bridge is 200 feet up stream from the Spokane falls, and passengers saw his body rise to the surface and plunge over the falls into the whirlpool below. The water is high and it is believed the body is in the whirlpool being dashed against the rocks.

PICKLES MEAT? ALMOST.

Jury Decides Butcher Has Right to Sell Beef Accessories.

Special to The Morning News.
Chicago, May 12.—When is a meat market not a meat market? A jury in Municipal Judge Sabath's court answered this question. Evidence showed Joseph C. Barker, 4154 Langley avenue, sold these foodstuffs in addition to meats: Pickles, chowchow, eggs, soup greens, horseradish and cabbage. His landlord, Burkett Owen, 1130 South Ashland avenue, was suing for possession on the ground that the premises were leased for only a meat market.

The jury held that pickles, chowchow, etc., are accessories required in serving meats.

TAFT STUMPING CALIFORNIA BY WIRE

UNABLE TO GET TO STATE, HE TELEGRAPHS WOMEN AND MEN TO STAND BY HIM.

Cites Accomplishments of Administration and Defends Its Record.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 12.—Unable to cross the continent to campaign in California, President Taft today sent by telegraph to the men and women republicans of that state his arguments for support in the presidential primary election Tuesday.

In the message, President Taft reviewed the achievements of his administration, and asserted that California's interests were being sacrificed by the present administration. He said that the tariff, the Panama-Pacific exposition, conservation in the increase in our international and Philippine trade in the employment of labor, the more drastic and complete regulation of interstate commerce, in the postal savings bank bill, in the mining bureau bill for the health and wealth of miners, in the establishment of a tariff commission in the change from a deficit of $50,000,000 to a surplus of $40,000,000 in the corporation tax, in the children's bureau bill for the health and wealth of children, in the appointment of Miss Julia C. Lathrop, one of the ablest women of America, in the making of peace treaties with England and France which have been emasculated through the influence of Mr. Roosevelt and his campaign manager, Senator Dixon, and the democratic members of the senate in the effective work of the Panama canal, I submit a record as formed that entitles this administration to the support of the republican men and women of California and that it is progressive in the highest degree.

Says Enforced All Laws.
This administration has shown no favor to wrong-doers; it has enforced every law on the statute books. It prosecuted the sugar frauds, the customs frauds, the rebates, and it has brought suit against every trust which there was evidence of its violating the Sherman law and this includes the steel trust and the Harvester trust which were treated as good trusts under Mr. Roosevelt and as entitled to immunity after a threat by Mr. George W. Perkins, that the prosecution of such trusts would bring about a fight with the administration. Mr. Perkins is one of the chief contributors to Mr. Roosevelt's political fund."

Keep your city in the limelight. Citter have sprung into prominence in a day.

SOCIALISTS TO FIGHT

ization, as there has been too much of this on the Pacific coast and elsewhere."

Haywood Expects Criticism.
William D. Haywood, also a member of the socialist executive committee and a leader of the Industrial Workers, said he expected criticism of the organization of the floor of the convention.

"But we ask nothing from the socialists except approval of the unit form of national organization of labor," he said. "We believe in militant methods, and many delegates in this convention are with us."

John M. Work of Chicago, national secretary, called the convention to order. He told the convention that since the party was formed in Indianapolis eleven years ago it had grown from 10,000 members to 150,000 and that the voting strength had been increased from 100,000 to 600,000.

Eugene V. Debs, who is named as the preference of most of the delegates as head of the ticket, is expected to arrive at the end of the week. He has been the party's candidate for president in every election since 1900.

Two Flags Entwined.
After meeting of Congressman Berger, Superintendent of Police Martin withdrew his order prohibiting the carrying of red flags in a street parade of the visiting and local delegates tonight, but rain prevented the parade.

Instead, a mass meeting was held in the convention hall, decorated with entwined red banners and American flags. Addresses were made by Congressman Berger, William D. Haywood and other socialist orators.

DENIES BUTT WENT ON MISSION TO POPE

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 12.—President Taft denied in a personal statement tonight that Major Archibald Butt, the president's military aide who was lost on the Titanic, had gone to Rome on any mission to the Vatican.

The statement continued that there had been attempts to arouse religious prejudice, that the president was unadvisedly favoring the Catholics. The president declared he had treated all denominations with impartiality.

NEGRO STOPS RUNAWAY CHILD

Ad Merewether, a negro porter at the New State House, stopped a runaway horse and probably saved the life of the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Farris J. Baahara, 511 North Sixth street, who was in the buggy at the time of the runaway.

The horse, becoming frightened at a passing auto near the corner of Sixth and Austin streets, dashed down Sixth and would have run into the curb had he gone a few rods further.

It was then Merewether saw the runaway, and without losing a moment he rushed into the street, grabbing the animal by the bits and succeeded in stopping him. The negro is suffering with slight injuries received while he was dragged several yards before the horse was stopped.

KNIGHTS BEGIN ARRIVING FOR BIG CONVENTION

Although the convention proper does not commence until tomorrow, a great many delegates to the annual state meeting of the Knights of Pythias are expected to begin arriving in the city on early trains this morning. A large delegation is expected to arrive from Dallas at noon today.

The preparations for the entertainment of the visiting Knights have been completed. It is thought that between 1000 and 1500 delegates will attend the session.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE, AND IT DID THIS TIME

Medium That Helped a Prisoner to Prove His Innocence.

Special to The Morning News.

Chicago, May 12.—Charles Knight, after serving two months in jail awaiting trial for the supposed theft of a diamond brooch, succeeded in proving his innocence by a small advertisement which he had inserted in a newspaper, and last night left the county lockup a free man.

Knight found the brooch in a north side restaurant. He was sick and needed money, so he pawned his find. With part of the money he inserted the advertisement announcing the finding of the brooch. In the meantime the pawnbroker had been notified that the property had been stolen from a Mrs. Artmuller. Knight obtained a sum of money from his brother and went to redeem the brooch. He was arrested.

The case came before Judge Pettibone in habeas corpus proceedings. When the court heard that Knight had repeatedly called to see if there was an answer to the advertisement he gave him his freedom.

SCATTERS FLOWERS ON SEA WHERE SPOUSE LIES BURIED

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 12.—Standing on the bridge of the Carmania in mid-ocean last Thursday evening, Mrs. J. H. Loring of New York and London, scattered armfuls of flowers upon the waters of the Atlantic in memory of her husband, who lost his life on the Titanic. When the Carmania, which reached here today, arrived in latitude 41.14, longitude 59.14, the nearest position to where the Titanic sank, Mrs. Loring uttered in deep mourning, was escorted to the bridge by Captain Dow.

Five hundred cabin passengers assembled on the decks. Men stood with heads bowed, and uncovered while women passengers touched by the devotion, wept.

DENY ITALIANS TURN IN PRISONERS

By The Associated Press.

Rome, May 12.—Official denial was given here today of the statement made in the United States that Turks were caring for 2500 captured Italian soldiers. The government officials announced today that the Turks have only five Italian prisoners, "all of whom are enjoying splendid health as appears from letters which they themselves have written to their families."

FOUR WRECK VICTIMS FOUND.

By The Associated Press.

Halifax, N. S., May 12.—Wireless messages from the steamer Mont Magna dispatched from Halifax last week to search for victims of the Titanic, reports the recovery of four bodies. Two were members of the crew and two were steerage passengers.

WRECK KILLS ENGINEER.

By The Associated Press.

St. Louis, May 13.—Missouri Pacific mail No. 1 was derailed near Etah, Mo., today because of loosening of the track, after heavy rains, and John Lyndaby, engineer, was killed. No passengers were seriously hurt.

WALKAWAY FOR T. R.

By The Associated Press.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12.—Late returns from the presidential preference primary elections in Minnesota give the following instructed delegates for the entire state. Roosevelt—725, Taft 100, LaFollette 58.

Keep a pushing and a-pulling, and it will not be long before others join in and help lighten the burden.

CHICAGO PRINTERS VOTE AGAINST SYMPATHY STRIKE

I. T. U. MEN WON'T WALK OUT TO HELP OUT PRESSMEN; LATER ARE CAST DOWN.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, May 12.—By a vote of 1009 to 685, members of the typographical union today voted not to go on strike in sympathy with the pressmen who are out in all Chicago daily newspaper offices.

The pressmen were downcast over the failure of the typographical to join them.

President Lynch's afternoon address to the printers was couched in plain language. Recalling the strike of the printers in 1905 and 1906, he said he had gone to the international offices of the pressmen's union and urged them not to make a contract for longer than 8 hours a day. Despite his pleading, he continued a nine-hour contract was signed, and the printers were left to fight their battle alone. That was not the only time the printers had been forced to make their own fight, he said.

Members of the faction which is opposing President Lynch for reelection distributed during the meeting pamphlets attacking him.

URGES MORE WAGES FOR TEACHERS

U. S. Education Commissioner Points Out Dangers of Poor Pay.

Special to The Morning News.

Washington, May 12.—Higher paid and more thoroughly equipped teachers are urged for public schools by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, in his annual review of educational conditions soon to be distributed by the bureau of education.

The report, which deals with a period covering the first 10 years of the present century, shows that though the average monthly salary of male teachers increased 38 per cent, and the salary of female teachers 27 per cent, the average annual pay of teachers, including those in the big cities and high schools, is less than $500.

"In some states," Dr. Claxton says, "the wage scale for teachers falls far below the country-wide average. In 11 states the average annual salary for teachers is less than $250. For salaries like this it is clearly impossible to hire the services of men and women of good native ability and sufficient scholarship, training and experience to enable them to do satisfactory work."

Moreover, a "large percentage of the teachers are men and women less than 21 years old. In the country at large less than one-half have had adequate preparation for their work. In some states less than 25 per cent have had the full preparation given by normal schools and in most of the states less than 10 per cent of the teachers in the country schools have had such preparation."

INSTRUCTION TO ALLEN JURY COMPLETED

By The Associated Press.

Wytheville, Va., May 12.—Instructions to the jury in the Floyd Allen case were completed today by Judge Staples, who will deliver them tomorrow when court convenes. Final arguments by counsel will begin immediately after the jury has been instructed. The summing probably will take two days, and the case may not go to the jury before Wednesday.

ARCHBALD INQUIRY TO BE PROLONGED

MANY MORE WITNESSES WILL BE SUBPOENAED THAN WAS AT FIRST PLANNED.

Washington, May 12.—Investigation of charges against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court by the judicial committee of the house will be prolonged. Today the committee determined to summon many more witnesses.

The inquiry has developed some ground for the charges. Certain documents have been turned over to the chairman of the committee. Today a deputy sergeant-at-arms of the house left for Scranton and other places in Pennsylvania to serve subpoenas on witnesses whose names were not disclosed.

New Letter Appears.
When May was asked Saturday for a letter of introduction that Williams had brought from Judge Archbald, he produced a letter, the existence of which was not known to the attorney general. It was dated March 31 and was not the letter the committee asked for.

In that letter the judge had asked if the Katydid Culin property was for sale and if so what price did the company fix on it. May turned over to the committee other correspondence that is not in the original record.

Witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear as late as a week from tomorrow. W. P. Boland of the Marine Coal Company of Scranton, who made the original charges against Judge Archbald, probably will be called to the stand. Before he is called, however, the committee contemplates taking the testimony of Charles E. Cotterell, a clerk of the interstate commerce commission who took the notes which formed the basis for the investigation by the department of justice, February last.

Among new witnesses summoned in G. F. Brownell, general counsel and first vice-president of the Erie. According to Williams, Archbald sought Brownell's influence in the Katydid option after Captain May had decided to give the option.

WACO WINS FAST GAME FROM CRABS

COMING FROM BEHIND, NAVIGATORS BEAT GALVESTON BY 3-TO-1 SCORE.

Both Pitchers in Fine Form and Are Found in Only One Inning Each.

By The Associated Press.
Galveston, May 12.—Coming from behind, the Waco Navigators took a fast game from the Sand Crabs here this afternoon before a large Sunday crowd, a timely bunching of hits, combined with a costly error, overcoming for them a three-run lead in the seventh, and bringing them out with one run to the good.

Both pitchers were working in great form, and could be located effectively in only one inning each. The locals succeeded in getting three runners across in the fifth by bunching four hits and a sacrifice fly, but were thereafter unable to find Lohman. Helm pitched a good game, allowing but six hits, all of them singles, and one a rank scratch.

Houston, May 12.—Parrish was good in the pinches today and despite another ninth-inning rally, the locals were beaten by Fort Worth 3 to 2, in a featureless game. The visitors cleaned three hits, one a triple by Morris in the second inning for two runs. The winning tally was scored on a dropped fly in the sun field. Foster pitched good ball after a bad start.

Austin 10, San Antonio 4.
By The Associated Press.
Austin, May 12.—Three home runs were the features of the opening game of the series here today, in which Austin won by a score of 10 to 4. The Bronchos filled the bases without a hit and only one man out in the first inning and the fifth man up, Betts, drove the ball into deep center for four bases. Those were the only scores for the Bronchos. The Senators made one run in the first inning and in the next Robinson knocked the ball over the right field fence. Smith went out and Hinninger rapped the ball into deep center for a round trip. Lewis pitched steady ball for Austin.

DAN FORD IS RUNNING.
Justice Dan Ford, who was recently appointed by the commissioners' court to the judgeship of the justice court in precinct No. 1 to succeed Doss Walker who resigned, is meeting with much success in his canvass for the place at the election next July. Judge Ford has lived in McLennan county all his life, and that he is eminently qualified for the position, that he now holds is evidenced by the satisfactory manner in which he deals out justice to those who have occasion to come before his court. He is running strictly on his record, and he says if he is elected he will continue to faithfully discharge the duties of the office with fairness to all and special favors to none. He is honest, capable and is worthy in every way to be honored at the hands of the voters in this precinct.

"I am in the race to win, and I respectfully ask careful consideration of my record at your hands. I am daily growing in experience and the ramifications of the law. I expect at all times to remember that justice above all else should and will rule in my court," Judge Ford said yesterday.

UNION REVIVAL OPENS IN BIG TABERNACLE

CONGREGATIONS OF EIGHT CITY CHURCHES ASSEMBLE TO HEAR EVANGELIST.

Choir of 200 Voices Is One of the Features of the Service; Census Today.

The opening service of the big union revival was held last night at the tabernacle adjoining the Austin Avenue Methodist church with a large attendance, the tabernacle being filled with an audience composed of the combined congregations of eight of the city churches.

The Rev. E. R. Jordan, the evangelist engaged to conduct the revival, preached the sermon of the evening. The need of people's looking to their spiritual welfare, which he declared to be of vastly more importance than anything else, was his theme.

The choir, about two hundred strong, was the feature of last night's meeting. Dr. Ramsey, who leads the choir during the meeting, as he has before in Waco, demonstrated his ability to organize a wonderful choir on short notice out of raw material. The music last night was exceptionally well taken by the congregation.

Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker opened the services last night by introducing the pastors of the nine churches that are united in the revival. This morning at 10 o'clock about 100 workers will meet at the Austin Avenue church and organize for the taking of a complete religious census of the city, which will require about twelve hours' work.

Services will be held at the tabernacle every morning at 10 o'clock and in the evening at eight o'clock. There will also be numerous cottage prayer meetings held during the month which will be announced later.

Dr. Knickerbocker delivered the "Mother's Day" address in the morning. Women at this service were stationed at the door to pin flowers on those who were not wearing them in honor of the occasion.

BERNHARDT'S WONDERFUL ACTING.
Chief among the many dramatic treats in store for all theatergoers who see the splendid motion pictures of Madame Sarah Bernhardt in a photo-play of her greatest success, "Camille," at the Huaco Theater next Monday and Tuesday, is the final scene of the drama, the death of Camille.

This comes as a surprise, the acting being different from anything that has ever been seen on the stage or in motion pictures. It is not the conventional death scene but is a novel and intense dramatic development of the great climax of the play. The effect produced is wonderful and words cannot begin to describe it. To be appreciated it must be seen. Bernhardt achieves the greatest triumph of her remarkable career in this film drama.

The enshrouding of the Bernhardt picture in this city will prove one of the most artistic and entertaining attractions that has ever been seen here.

BERNHARDT TO LIVE FOREVER.
The reproduction in motion pictures of Sarah Bernhardt will serve to immortalize the world-famous star. Long after the great artist has passed away the record of her renown and consummate art will be preserved through the medium of the film.

It has always been the complaint of the actor that his fame dies with him, whereas the work of the poet, author or musician lives with them and endures from generation to generation. But not so for Bernhardt. Her genius will not be interred with her bones. For many years after her death the moving pictures of her incomparable performance in "Camille" will live and be seen by her friends and admiring public.

The remarkable motion picture of Mme. Bernhardt in "Camille" will be seen in this city next Monday and Tuesday at the Huaco theater.

Markets

FINANCIAL REVIEW.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 12.—The stock market last week underwent some further speculative dejection which went towards correction of previous excess. Suspicion of the excess at first aroused by signs of undue manipulative operations, was confirmed by business advice on which the rise in stocks had been based. The accumulation of a short interest in the course of the decline gave the market some resiliency at times, but the week generally was lower.

The government crop report showed much fall wheat had been killed by the severe winter. Evidence that this fact had spent its force and a speculative factor was seen in the reaction in the wheat market itself. The belief persists that it is still too early to estimate the year's crop results. Possibilities of replanting the acreage of replanted wheat, or of winter wheat plowed under, are kept in mind. The belated season shows alive anxiety in this respect, both for grains and cotton. The agricultural outlook as to wheat is doubtful.

The same may be said of the great basic steel industry in spite of the continuing influence of the fact that the United States steel surplus had to be drawn on for payment of practically all of the first quarter's common stock dividends.

The April iron production was sustained at a rate over the March output and weekly shipments of crude steel into consumption are mounting into new records. This did not prevent an unexpectedly large increase in the May first tonnage of unfilled orders for the steel corporation. Contracting in anticipation of an advance in price must be allowed for in that showing. The invigorating effect of the industry is shown, however, by reports of shortage of crude steel, premiums for early deliveries, advances in official quotations, the heavy payrolls which Pittsburgh banks are called on to finance and complaints of growing scarcity of labor in that district. In the related copper industry, April statistics showed less than the expected increase in stocks, while last week's increase reflected new demand from that quarter.

Reduction of the official discount of the Bank of England marks ease in the money market. Renewed stringency is feared with the close of another quarter. The week's sale of $55,000,000 New York City 4-1/2 bonds at an average price of 109.74 indicated only moderately favorable conditions. Bankers' presigra for settlement of the contracts for new subscription in New York attracted attention by their statements that "conditions are quickly changing in the bond market in the money markets of the world, in the present situation and in the ranks of labor."

COTTON GOODS REVIEW.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 12.—Primary cotton goods markets have held generally firm despite adverse conditions in weather and in other directions. Jobbers continued to do a very fair advance business for fall and retailers seem to have more confidence in value. A reasonable demand is expected to come with clearing skies and primary factors believe that re-ordering will be more general. All orders held at value on staple gingham were confirmed at 6 1/4 clearly in the week and the goods are again at value.

Shirting chambrays, 32 inches wide, used largely by the cutting trades, have been priced at 6 1/2 c for the new season and have been ordered liberally, showing first account. Need of goods and again satisfaction with current price levels. Prints and bleached cottons are firm and quiet. Brown sheetings, drills and duck rule very steady.

Of the 75,000 pieces of print cloth sold at Fall River, 30,000 were for spot delivery. Export demand is light, but shipments on local demand are good. Prices rule about as follows:

Print cloths, 28 inches, 64x64s, 31 1/2-16c; 64x60s, 3 1/4 c; 38 1/2-inch, 64x64s, 5 1/4 c; brown sheetings, southern standard, 7 3/4 c; denims, 9-ounce, 13 1/4 c; tickings, 8-ounce, 13c; standard staples prints 5 1/4 c; standard staple gingham, 6 1/4 c; dress gingham, 9 1/4 c.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 12.—Consumption as well as production of finished steel products, was never so great as today and orders are flowing into the mills at a rate of 25 to 50 per cent in excess of full capacity. Although the steel companies are producing pig iron at the rate of 22,500,000 tons and ingots at the rate of 30,000,000 tons annually, they need more metal to keep pace with specifications.

Shipments are falling behind and new business booked cannot be shipped for from two or three months after receipt of orders. Prices are naturally tending upward and sales of plates were made last week at $1 per ton advance, although the higher prices were not general. An advance of 10 cents per box on tin plate is expected momentarily.

Orders for finished steel products last week averaged 100,000 tons per day, the railroads being responsible for more than half the tonnage and additional contracts pending for 400,000 tons of rails, 6000 cars and 400 locomotives.

The Santa Fe ordered 3000 more cars and the Great Northern 1000; the St. Louis & San Francisco has bought two locomotives and the Pennsylvania, west, is negotiating for seventy. The Rock Island, the Missouri Pacific, the Boston and the Chicago & Eastern Illinois will order rails next week, while the Seaboard, Atlantic Coast Line, Pere Marquette and the Harriman lines also are in the market.

Steel building and bridge orders were heavy, calling for over 57,000 of structural shapes. Additional building contracts are pending for 75,000 tons.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, La., May 12.—Weather conditions over the belt will continue to be the chief influence in the cotton market this week, so far as can be forced. Probably the question of acreage will come up for more reconsideration than has yet been given it because of the approaching estimate by the government. The acreage report is bound to be bullish but it is probable that bullish expectations will not have much effect on prices if the weather holds unfavorable.

Should weather turn good, however, and expectations continue for a substantial decrease in area planted to cotton this spring, one feature will about balance the other. It may be that there will be a tendency to tone down estimates of the increase in acreage if the weather improves as it will be argue that, given the opportunity, farmers will plant as much as they can. The acreage report from the government is always important yet this year it is more important than usual and will cause more dispute than usual. During the week several of the more important private estimates of area planted ought to come out. Fair weather is needed east of the Mississippi and unless late weather rules very bullish crop accounts are bound to come from Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas. In all these states rotting of seed in the ground is complained of and more cool, wet weather will increase this trouble. It is bound to be a weather market this year and the market will probably display as much uncertainty as the weather.

TEN MILLION NEGROES.

There are now nearly ten million negroes in the United States. When the census figures of 1900 were published they showed that in the forty years since slavery the negro population had doubled. It was 4,411,820 in 1860 and 8,833,994 in 1900. Almost another million were added in the last ten years. According to the thirteenth census the negro population was 9,828,294, and if it has increased at the same rate since 1910, the year the census was taken, as it did before, or about 100,100 a year, the negro population is now considerably more than ten million.

The importance of this fact is that it assures the physical existence of the race, writes Dr. Booker T. Washington in the Independent. The negro is not dying out. The rate of increase among negroes is not so great as it was some years ago, but that is true of every civilized country. In the United States the population is not increased by immigration. The census shows that the white population is increasing more rapidly than the negro in the Southern states. This is due in part to the fact that, while there is a movement in the black population northward from the border states like Kentucky, Tennessee and Maryland, there is the same time a movement of the white population southward, particularly in the direction of Florida, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

The total increase of negro population in the North from 1900 to 1910 amounted to more than 167,879. During the same period negro population in the South has grown from 7,922,969 to 8,749,390, an increase of 826,421. The truth is negro emigration from the border states has not been directed exclusively toward the North. On the contrary, there has been, perhaps, an even larger movement of the negro population South and West. In Oklahoma the white population increased 115.5 per cent from 1900 to 1910. In the same period the negro population increased 147.1 per cent. In West Virginia the percentage of increase for white people was 25.4 per cent; for negroes, 47.5 per cent. In Arkansas the percentage of increase for white people was 19.7 per cent; for negroes, 20.7. In Florida, where there has been a large immigration from the North during the last decade, the negro population increased less rapidly than the white. Another striking fact which the census figures has disclosed is that in the readjustment which is now taking place in the South between the city and the rural population, the negro on the whole remains in the country, while the white man goes to town.—Indianapolis News.

Ever notice that letters received from Germany are inclosed in thin envelopes with a colored inside? remarked Curt Wollheim of Berlin at the Willard. The question frequently has been asked me whether this was because the foreigner demands something a little more fancy than people of this country. "Not at all. The reason is that the citizen of Germany, where most of the envelopes are made, are conservationists. The Germany double envelope is only half as heavy as the American envelope of equal size. The paper is very thin. And this is used primarily to cut down the cost of postage. It is a clever and attractive envelope. There apparently is no demand for such an envelope in this country. If there should be, the American envelope makers would have to get their machinery for making them from abroad."—Washington Post.

Special to The Morning News.

New York, May 6.—It ought to be good news to metropolitan exiles—this reappearance of James T. Powers in "Two Little Brides." For one thing, it shows that he has not gone the way of so many of his fellow fun dispensers, whose wit and evanescent fame heralded with the flicker of a theatre devotee, only to be followed by oblivion. But he's back, is Jimmy T., and playing at the Casino. We announce it.

It would have been too much to have the last of the old guard that dated from the days of the musical comedy drop out of sight of his admirers. The ladies, God bless 'em, are still with us—Lillian Russell, you know, and Bessie McCoy, and Miss Clayton. But the comic star is almost a thing of the theatrical past. Francis Wilson, who used to be a rival of Mr. Powers, does not even sing now; Dr. Wolf Hopper has been swallowed up by the all-star casts and where is Jefferson De Angelis, the once loved Jefferson of the angels? Thomas G. Seabrooke, who could be as funny as the next one, has been out of the metropolitan sight for years, wherever he may be dispensing his peculiar brand of humor. And Frank Daniels rarely reveals his athletic eyebrows and his torsal squirm to Broadway's view.

So it should be good news to the many friends of Mr. Powers that his comicality is in as good estate as usual and that "Two Little Brides" gives him ample opportunity to display all his staccato vocal eccentricities, besides allowing him to wander in those byways of humor that often show his whimsicality at its best. In fact, he had some hand in preparing the piece, and, with Arthur Anderson, took it from the German. The music is by Gustav Kerker and the lyrics were contributed by Harold Atterbridge.

To be perfectly candid, however, "Two Little Brides" rings neither the bell of brilliant construction, nor hits the bull's eye of popular acclaim. It is that genius musical comedy that lives in the twilight of mediocrity, with occasional trips to the surface of brilliancy for air.

It has neither ravishing music nor even clever lines, but it has Mr. Powers, and therefore contains a goodly number of laughs, which after all is as much as can be said of most of the operettas that come our way. The action opens in a convent and begins with a forced marriage—two forced marriages, to be exact—hence the name, "Two Little Brides." One marriage is between old friends and sweethearts, and the other between comparative strangers and mutual admirers of others.

This plot, it is true, has done vaudeville service for years and years, but, be it lastingly credited to the veracity of the cast of "Two Little Brides," fresh humor is drawn from nearly every hackneyed incident. The fun, of course, is most spontaneous when Mr. Powers is on the stage. His vocal peculiarities, his expression of complete irresponsibility and his alert braggadocio are quite as effective as ever.

None of the cast, however, acts with too much spirit, though Frances Cameron as Honora, a pupil in the convent, is pleasing. And the music, containing a little of the spirit of "dear old Vienna," is rather too hauntingly reminiscent of the after-the-wedding-song of "The War Bride" to appeal to its hearers as a veral contribution.

One of the incidents of last week that should not be unchronicled is the practical retirement of Percy O. Williams from the vaudeville field in favor of B. F. Keith. Mr. Keith has purchased Mr. Williams' eight vaudeville houses in New York and now holds complete control of varieties and vaudevillians as far west as Chicago.

Besides his purchase of the Williams circuits in New York, Mr. Keith has completed arrangements with Morris Meyerfield and Martin Beck of the Orpheum circuit, and Mrs. C. E. Kohl of New York, and Max Anderson of New York, by which the biggest combination of theatrical interests in the country has been accomplished.

The deal involves property worth millions of dollars and gives Mr. Keith and his associates virtual control of the vaudeville situation from the east to the Pacific coast and north into Canada.

The deal has been culminating for a long time. Mr. Keith's agents and those of his confederates holding a long series of conferences with the agents of Mr. Williams. The final settlement was made at a figure well over $5,000,000.

This entente will have a far-reaching effect upon the vaudeville profession. Artists will be booked on long time contracts, playing from the east straight through to the Pacific and north through the Canadian circuits.

Of course, there are the usual protestations of an uplifted stage—vaudeville is to be improved and the performers are to receive a more liberal compensation—but many whose vision reaches beyond the immediate future can see many disadvantages in the arrangement.

Competition is the life of trade, and its elimination by the formation of the vaudeville trust cannot help but influence the standing and freedom of the actors. Stars, perhaps, will be as well paid as ever, but the profession in time will find itself subject to both the classification of salary and personality always found in a large organization.

UNFURL THAT FLAG TONIGHT.

Stephen Shannon, Staff Poet Morning News.

Come, Sarah, dear, and bring a light, And sit beside my bed; I'd like for you to comfort me, And soothe my aching head. The day has been so long and dark, At times I scarce could see; Somehow I feel the end of life is drawing nigh to me.

You've been a faithful, loving wife, A mother kind and true, No fonder help-mate could be found Than I have found in you; But life is ebbing, ebbing fast, I cannot longer stay; Perhaps I'll quit this vale of tears Before the break of day.

Go, Sarah, to the middle room, And then to the garret old, And bring that torn and tattered flag.

Worth more to me than gold, Unfurl that battle flag tonight, And let me see once more That banner that led thousands on Through fields of crimson gore.

I love its stars, I love its bars, That holy, consecrated flag That taught men in the hour of war To fight and never lag. Its cause is lost, its task is done, It never shall wave again, But it will live eternally In hearts of Southern men.

I furled it many years ago, When we marched home to stay, And laid it in my army trunk Beside my suit of gray. Vowing it should rest in peace Until my life was o'er, Then I would sleep beneath its folds Secure forevermore.

I followed it through years of strife, As did the boys in gray Who sleep their peaceful sleep of death In sepulchers of clay. Just trust me to its tender care, I love its memory; And when I rise the Judgment Day I'll bring that flag with me.

The daybreak came, the world awoke, The autumn sun shone bright, But cold in death the soldier lay Whose soul had fled with night; The battle flag with broken staff Within the casket lay, Held by the hand that oft had borne That banner through the fray.

I turned aside—my weeping eyes Refused to further see; Devotion in the hour of death Proved most too much for me. Devotion has her devotees, But his defied death's laws; It was devotion from the heart, Devotion to a cause.

EUROPEAN 7000 CENTENARIANS.—German statistics show that Europe has at present more than 7000 persons who have passed 100 years. Bulgaria heads the list with 3884 centenarians; Roumania and Serbia follow with 1074 and 873, respectively.

Among the other nations comes Spain with 410. France, notwithstanding its larger population, has but 213 centenarians. In Italy are only 187, in Austria-Hungary 113, in England 92, in Russia 59, in Germany 76, in Norway 23, in Sweden 10, in Belgium 5, and in Denmark 2.

A scientist, in commenting upon these figures, says that statistics from America and Austria are not complete—but that indications are that South America and Australia make a much better showing in proportion to the population than the United States, where the nervous strain to "get rich quick" tends considerably to shorten life.—Harper's Weekly.

GRADUATION DAY.

Much of our trouble is imaginary. We paint upon the canvas of our minds gruesome pictures of tomorrow's happenings, and cast across the sky gloomy storm clouds that are only in the mind. If we expect pleasure and happiness we must hope for them, for what the mind longs for is apt to come. One can start the day with pleasant thoughts and it will be apt to end with agreeable happenings. There is some real trouble in the world, but the average man and the average woman does not have much of it, when their lives are averaged up, and the many pleasant things that they have enjoyed are counted and contrasted with the real disagreeable things. Pleasant days are in the majority in the majority of instances, and what are termed troubles are

A black and white woodcut illustration depicting a dramatic scene on a beach. In the foreground, a woman in a long dress and hat sits on the sand, looking down at a small box. To her right, a man in a suit and hat stands, looking towards the sea. In the background, a large, ornate ship is beached, with a large crowd of people gathered around it. The sea is choppy, and several birds are flying in the sky.

Some day we are going on a long journey, to a country we know nothing about, and we have to make it all alone, on faith, hoping that when we arrive that we will be made welcome by those we find in possession of the country. This life is transient, and we will have to give it up some day, no matter how much we may long to cling to it. It seems that, knowing this, that we would give a little more thought to the future, for eternity is long, and it is nearly all to be lived in that unknown other country. If we have good friends here we will have some good friends there, and if we live helpful lives here we will live helpful lives there, and be better prepared to occupy a higher place in the realm of happiness.

Oklahoma City, May 12.—Scott Glen of Shawnee, and Frank Hays of Chandler, two of four members of the state board of education who were under investigation last fall on charges of pernicious political activity, have been asked by Governor Crouce to resign, it is said.

It is understood that neither man has tendered his resignation, and is threatened by attorneys for the board last year the matter may be taken into the courts on the question of the governor's power to remove his own appointees from the board. It has been contended that the bill creating the board of edu-

Hayes said over long distances by phone from Chandler that he had not been asked by the governor to resign and that he had not resigned. Orville T. Smith of Oklahoma City, attorney for the two men, said a few minutes later that the governor had asked Hayes and Glen to resign, sending the request through a personal representative. He declined to say whether the men would resign or whether they would seek to get the matter into court. Glen refused
